The boys are coming back! In the past few days there have been several of khaki-clad men from the cantonments. Among recent arrivals are John "Dugan" Hennessey, from Fort Douglass, near Salt Lake City, Utah; Second Lieut. Hiram T. Roseberry, from Ft. Still, in Oklahoma: Blair Varden and Charles McCarthy. from Camp Zachary Taylor; Thornton Connell and Hiram Adair, from Camp Hancock, Georgia; Garrett Evans and Lolyd Williams, colored, both of North Middletown, who have been at Camp Zachary Taylor.

Mrs. Mollie James, of Paris, 1eceived a letter yesterday from her son, Cornelius (Buddie) James, written from Brest, France, stating that they were packing their kits in their old war bags preparatory for return-ing to the United States. Buddie stated that their ship had been on patrol duty along the French coast for some time, and now that the war was over they would get a chance to come back home. The sailors will be given a thirty-days' furlough on their arrival in New York. Buddie stated that he was in the best of health and that the home-coming idea appealed strongly to him.

Among the new arrivals of men ho have been in the service are Kimbrough Duvall, who has been stationed at Camp Dix, in New Jersey, for several months, and Sello Wollstein, who has been in a canton-ment in New York. #### THE SPIRIT OF THE 1918 CHRIST-MAS SEASON.

We are glad it is ours once more to greet our readers with a bright and merry Christmas. It seems but yesterday that we sent a like message to you, and yet a year has flown by. May your homes be bright, the dear children of your household happy and the great wish and hope of your hearts in abundant measure be realized this Christmas tide.

Marvelous is the influence by which the Christmas spirit moves the hearts of men to joyful and generous impulses. It seems as if in this era of the year an unseen angel touches the invisible spring of an unused door in normal human nature and fills them with joy and sunshine. What a world of generous happiness it twirls around us! Those whom Providence has prospered are busy with their loving devices to make home happy, to crown the waning year with goodness, to reward fidelity, patience and love, to rcap the joys that flock into the Christmas season like homing doves from afar circling light. None would deny them all the riches of such experience" of this season whose glory is the advent of Him who came to minister to the poor and the sick and the downcast, and not to be feted and filled with costly gifts.

To us no season of the year awakens so much of tenderness and fellow feeling towards all humanity as Christmas. It is not only a time of well wishing, but kindly doing, with a voin of sympathy that would turn no one away empty, withhold no tender greeting, no act of kindness, no word of love that might contribute U. to the County Infirmary will be to another's happiness. #### GOVERNMENT WILL ASSIST WAR WORKERS TO FIND JOBS.

The thousands of civilian war workers in the Government service who will soon be dismissed because the Goods-Read Every Item in their services are no longer needed will be assisted in finding re-employment through plans now being arranged by the United States Civil Service Commission.

On the recommendation of the Civil Service Commission the President issued on November 29 an executive order which provides that the names of persons in the competitive classified civil service with unrestricted status who were appointed either permanently or probationally prior to the date of the order, who have served less than three years, who are separated from the service because of a reduction of force, and who are recommended for further employment by the government because of demonstrated efficiency in the office from which they are separated will, upon request, be entered by the Civil Service Commission upon appropriate eligible registers for reappointment, eligibility thereon to continue for one year from the date of separation. The re-employment registers thus established will be used so far as is practicable for filling positions in the Government service.

It is expected, however, that there will be a surplus of eligibles on these re-employment registers and in order that those who cannot be replaced in the Government service may find positions in private employment, the Civil Service Commission has asked the co-operation of the Department of Labor in the work of finding suitable emploment in private establishments for dismissed war workers who can not be further employed by the Government.

It is the view of the Civil Service Commission that the machinery of the Government should be used to fullest extent in finding employment for the war workers for it is realized that a considerable number of them entered the Government service at the war program.

OUT OF BUSINESS.

The United States Food Administration has ceased to be. This is the order received by County Administrator Lawrence Mitchell from the State and National headquarters. The county and district food administration office will be closed immediately, as there is no further need for such an organization. During the past year, through the service of the Food Administration, by the Grain Corporation, the Sugar Equalization Board, the price list committee, a corps of inspectors and supervisors, it has been made possible for persons to have had food commodities which, if there had been no regulation, would have been denied them. Prices have been such that everyone could afford products which would have been only for those possessing ample means had not prices been regulated by the Food Administrator.

Fred M. Sackett, however, stated in his communication to the local Food Administration officials that he desired that the volunteer members of the organization be in readiness to be called together at any time in the near future.o

HANDSOME "HELMCREST" HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE.

"Helmcrest," home of W. T. Schnaufer, prominent lumber man of Lexington, two miles and a half on stroyed when a fire originating from a defective furnace gutted the building. The loss is estimated at $39,-000 which is partially covered by insurance.

Helmcrest, the former home of Mrs. Jennie Hanson Helm, was one of the most beautiful homes in that section of the State, being on a small hill about a quarter of a mile from the Maysville pike. The home was purchased from Mrs. Helm by Mr. Schnaufer aboutt wo years ago.

The home was made entirely of stone and the flames eating their way through the floors gutted the building in a short time. The furnishings of the house which will run into thousands were a total loss as the flames made such rapid headway that none could be saved.

SOME BIG TRAIN.

One of the longest passenger trains the Louisville & Nashville has sent out for years passed through Paris, This will be a particularly holy Christmas in view of the victory over turkeys and all kinds of Christmas goods, two mail cars, also loaded, presumably, with a miscellaneous cargo of Christmas mail, two combination cars, three day cars, and two Pullman cars.

Being 100 per cent Red Cross is the next best thing to being 100 per cent. American. Red Cross Christ- of them being khaki-clad lads, en mas Roll Call December 16 to 23 route to their homes from the cangives every one a chance to qualify. tonments. The boys were in high spirits and seemed glad to be on the road home. They gave vent to their joy in college yells and cheers and sent a wave of gladness through the waiting passengers. The Christmas spirit was in evidence everywhere. Many of the passengers had their car windows decorated with holly wreaths and flags.

As the train pulled out of the station, loaded with its freight of happy humanity and tons of Christmas goods destined to make many homes happy, the irrepressible spirit of Americanism could not be subdued, and loud cheers burst from the throats of the waiting passengers under the train sheds, and from the railroad men at the station and in the yards.

There was an instant response from the train, where hundreds of soldiers threw their windows open and sent up an answering cheer that went from post to post until lost the distance. And thus does the Christmas spirit prove its contagion. Another train, of twelve coaches, filled with cheering, happy soldiers, en route home from Southern cantonments, passed through Paris, Sunday morning. Most of the men were from Camp Gordon and Camp Hancock. They made up a happy and en-thusiastic crowd as the big train pulled out of the yards. One of the men remarked to General Agent W. V. Shaw: "I never knew what a great thing Christmas was before, and now, if the boys were only back from France, what a great homecoming it would be." He was from Chillicothe, Ohio, where he had been at Camp Sherman for months before being sent to Camp Gordon.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS BUSY.

The Christmas rush among shoppers began yesterday and the stores and streets of Paris presented an animated picture as throngs of shoppers. wended their way from one place to another. There was a large crowd in the city, and the merchants reported an unusually good business preceding the Christmas Eve rush.

To-day will be "The Day Before Christmas," the time doted upon by the belated Christmas shoppers and also to the snug preparedness one who has had every gift chosen, se-curely wrapped and labeled, if not already sent, several days before. There will not be any large Christmas trees or Sunday school gatherings, as is the usual custom on Christmas Eve, because of the Health Board rulings. To-morrow will be Christmas Day, with many happy family reunions and happy little Christmas tree parties in the homes.

For those of us who will have our boys back, could there be a more touching thank offering to God than that we should take one little French orphan under our care?

It requires only $36.50 annually to support "one of these little ones," the French government contributing an equal amount, and who can estimate the value of such an offering, both as our expression of American friendship and of sympathy for the Military training is one of the greatest things that has ever come before the nation. It tends to the betterment of the race, physically and morally, from the standpoint of personal efficiency in every industry, line of labor and profession. It tends to physical and moral betterment because it gives people a greater appreciation of their obligation as citizens and a better understanding of their fellowmen. Application can be made to the nearest branch chairman, or at the Central Department Headquar-ters of the Military Training Camps Association, Consumers Building, Chicago. Attendance to Camp Pershing does not obligate further military service at the expiration of the
